REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The republican electors of the state of Wisconsin are requested to elect delegates to a state convention to be held in the capitol, at Madison,

WEDNESDAY SEPT. 8, 1886,

at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates of the republican party for the several state offices, to be voted for at the ensuing general election in November. Each county will be entitled to delegates as follows, the representation being based upon the number of votes cast for Mr. Blaine in 1884, one delegate to each 500 votes, or major fraction of 300—each county entitled to one delegate, without reference to number of votes cast:

Hudson, Wis., July 12, 1886.

Mr. Cleveland's thoughts concerning congress would be worth more than a penny.

The reason that congressmen have not done more is because they have had two eyes on their political fences.

The second best place in British officialism is that of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, who receives $100,000, while the chief secretary for Ireland has a salary of $22,000.

Well, a democratic congress has voted by a big majority that it has no confidence in a democratic president. This will not prove a very handy democratic document in the campaign of '88.

A compliment for a democratic congress from the Chicago Times: "This congress is politically the most contemptible congress that has appeared in all the life of the republic." Behold how lovely it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.

The Philadelphia Press called the attention of the democrats who were pledged to reform, to the "crippled condition of the civil service." But the Chicago Times, without any feeling for the democratic mind, answers: "But it won't do. The civil service can not have a pension, for it was crippled by kicks from the democratic jackass and not in the war."

A rumor was circulated in New York Thursday afternoon that John Roach, the famous American ship builder, was dying at his home at College Point from an illness caused by his reverses in business. Later reports are to the effect that he had suffered from a slight bilious attack, and that he is improving in health

John G. Saxe, the poet, says the Boston Traveller, sees no visitors and rarely leaves his room. Longfellow, Emerson and other of the writers of his day lived to a ripe age and died in the midst of their work, but Saxe still lives on at the age of 70, though dead to the world, dead to literature and dead to the thousands of friends whose hearts yearn to comfort and cheer the man whose genius and wit have lightened so many homes as in his declining years, he nears the evening sunset.

The LaCrosse Chronicle gives the labor convention recently held in that city, the following complimentary notice: "The convention which collapsed at La Crosse on Tuesday was in inception and results one of the most preposterous political farces ever put in motion. All the brains there were in it were injected from the outside. They came to set down on it and they 'sot.' Outside of LaCrosse unsophisticated people might have thought that the LaCrosse movement was of some consequence, but intelligent people here knew that it was only a question of time when the bottom would drop out of it. The men chosen to run it here could not run themselves, let alone the whole state."

The National Conference of Charities and Corrections is in session at St. Paul, and scores of the leading philanthropists of this country are present to take an active part in the proceedings. Every year their papers and proceedings are prepared and compiled in book form, and have become of the highest interest and instruction to all engaged in work for the criminal or quasi-criminal classes, and for the unfortunate blind, deaf, dumb, insane, and weak-minded. Ex-President Hayes and wife are also present, and on Thursday evening when the convention was opened, in response to the welcome speech, Mr. Hayes spoke this truth: "Society is so composted together, and Providence hath so ordained and doth so govern things, that, whether we would have it so or not, we must be and are our brothers' keepers." The business of the convention is to discuss the best methods of aiding society in the attempt to prevent the commission of crimes and to reform those who are criminals.

The other day the republicans held a meeting in Boston to emphasize the temperance sentiment of a large element in the party, and the result was the adoption of resolutions favoring the submission to the people of a prohibitory constitutional amendment. The prohibition wing, which was present, prudently accepted the prevailing view of what was most judicious to be done. One republican, who is a thorough temperance reformer but not a third party man, speaks for the republicans of Massachusetts in this wise: "There can be no doubt that this action is significant, and that it points to a coming extension of the demand for temperance measures within the republican party which the politicians everywhere will be compelled to recognize and respond to. It is to be observed that the anti-saloon movement is not the work of this class, and the fact is important. The charge made by the prohibition organs, that it has been started merely to hoodwink the friends of temperance, cannot be sustained for the reason that the promoters of the movement are not office-seekers but for the most part business and professional men, who have become tired of waiting for the politicians to move in the matter, and have at length determined to apply an impetus to them." If our western prohibitionists were as wise as their brethren in the east, they would materially help the temperance cause, but we fear they are not and will throw away an opportunity to give temperance an important help onward.

The report of the department of agriculture as to the coming crop of wheat, was published a few days ago, and the estimate was that the yield of winter wheat would probably be about 235,000,000 bushels, and that "it seems a question whether the spring wheat yield will fall to 100,000,000 bushels, instead of 150,000,000 bushels foreshadowed by the report of June 1" The New York Tribune answers the statement in this way: No such decline had been caused by events prior to July 1, the date of the report just made public, and the bureau estimates the decline in winter wheat, from the previous estimate of 300,000,000 bushels, at 1½ per cent, leaving a crop of 295,500,000 bushels, while the decline in spring wheat is estimated at 15 per cent leaving a probable yield of 127,500,000 bushels. Thus the outlook, July 1, according to the department's report, justified expectation of a crop of 423,000,000 bushels in all, and the question now is how much additional damage was done by the hot weather and drouth during the first week of July. As was remarked on Friday, while the injury seems to have been severe, it was apparently confined to a part of the territory which should yield about half the spring wheat crop, and there is no reason as yet to suppose that the loss will prove as much as 50,000,000 bushels. But until the crop has been harvested, the farmers of northern Iowa, southern Wisconsin and Minnesota and southern Dakota will watch the weather with unusual interest." And further: "For consumers, the question is still just where it was—whether a market can be found for as much as 400,000,000 bushels of new wheat and for a surplus of 68,000,000 bushels carried over from last year. Unless consumers and producers both lose their heads, there is no occasion to look for starvation prices this year. A greater demand from abroad than is yet foreshadowed, is needed to clear away the surplus, even if the yield should fall as low as 400,000,000 bushels."

THE CHICAGO ARMY POST.

Some of the eastern newspapers, says the Chicago Evening Journal, are altogether mistaken in their notions as to the object of establishing an army post near Chicago. It is not solely for the purpose of having a detachment of the regular army in the vicinity to be used in the suppression of riots. The plan for establishing such a military station in this neighborhood is an old one. It was proposed and outlined long before the recent uprising of labor and the riots that followed. It was suggested as a mere strategic measure to place at large military force at a prominent center of the country, where ample railroad transportation in all directions could be promptly furnished, and from which they could be speedily moved to the frontier, or to any point where their services might be required.

The United States army is now scattered in small detachments and squads, separated from each other by long distances. No large force could be concentrated anywhere without difficulty and delay. A regiment or two stationed near Chicago could be sent by railroad with celerity and dispatch to the Indian border, to the sea coast, to the Canada frontier, or wherever they might be ordered.

If, incidentally, a force from the regular army should be required to suppress a riot in Chicago, or in any neighboring city, it would doubtless be a good thing to have the soldiers handy. The plan to establish a large garrison near this city was not, however, formed for that object especially, but for the general good and efficiency of the military service.

FOR DEATH OR GLORY.

AN AMBITIOUS BARBER AND HIS JACKET OF CORK

Suddenly Disappear at Niagara Falls—Has He Met His Death in the Whirlpool?—A Talk with the Man Who Wanted to Emulate Webb—His Proposed Tactics.

WHIRLPOOL RAPIDS, NIAGARA RIVER, N. Y., July 17.—George W. White, an Oswego barber who came here Thursday with the announced intention of swimming the rapids Friday morning, clad in a cork suit about three-quarters of an inch thick, failed to keep his engagement up to 10:30 a. m. In an interview with a United Press reporter late Friday evening White said that he had successfully swum the Lachine rapids on the St. Lawrence, and added:

"The whirlpool rapids are much worse, but with my cork suit, I can get through all right. I went down along the bank here and had the folks point out where Capt. Webb was killed. His mistake was in trying to dive through the mountain of foam where two outside currents of the river surge to a peak. There is a sunken rock there against which he struck. In making my attempt I will simply float on the surface and will save my strength to push away from any rocks. If, as people say, I will be sucked under the surface by the undertow, I can stand it for five minutes. The current will carry me along better underneath and it would be best, for the passage occupies only four minutes."

A bystander expressing a disbelief that White could do any such thing. A pail was quickly filled with water and White immersed his head in it for four minutes. "You fellows need not think I am fooling" he said, "for I intend to go through. It will knock Graham and his barrel sky high and he will not have a chance to exhibit himself much."

In reply to a question as to his object in making the attempt, White replied: "I am a poor barber and if I get through safely I will make a fortune, and if I don't, it will be little loss to the world."

About 9 o'clock Thursday evening White heard that Canadian detectives were after him and secluded himself. Before he went away he arranged with a few persons to witness his attempt, so that there could be no dispute about the feat if he got through.

The police on the American side say that they will not interfere with White. At 10 o'clock Friday morning a crowd of people had gathered on the bank expecting White to make his appearance.

LATER.—Various reports are in circulation about White having been seen on the river bank Friday morning, but nothing authentic can be learned. He has not left here by any of the trains, which have been carefully watched. There is a rumor afloat that he made the attempt to swim the rapids and has been killed. White told the editor of The Niagara Falls Review that if he did not show up by 5 o'clock Friday afternoon he could write his obituary. An object which looked like the body of a man was seen in the whirlpool about noon, but it was sucked in by the maelstrom before its nature could be determined.

MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS.

One Town Captured—The Government Sending Forward Troops.

LAREDO, Tex., July 17.—According to the latest information received of the revolution in the state of Tamaulipas, the town of Guerro, on the Rio Salado, seventy-five miles south of here, was captured Thursday night by a large body of revolutionists, who are now putting the town in a state of defense. Three hundred and fifty infantry arrived here Friday and were immediately dispatched down the Rio Grande to Mier, the seat of trouble, and other detachments will follow until the government has an ample force to suppress any further uprising.

Rumors are afloat of a revolution in Nuevo Leon. Public buildings are being put in a state of defense and every preparation is being made to offer a stout resistance to the insurrectionists.

To Receive Irish Delegates.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 17.—Patrick Egan, president of the Irish National league, has invited the following gentlemen to act as a committee of reception of the delegation from Ireland, which is to come to America to attend the meeting of the league in Chicago. The gentlemen indicated are to go to New York to receive the delegates: Mayors of New York, Boston, Brooklyn, Philadelphia; the vice president, treasurer, executive committee, ex-presidents and other officials and ex-officials of the National league in America, and Patrick Ford, John Boyle O'Reilly, John J. Finerty, Rev. Father Cronin and many other prominent Irishmen. Mr. Egan predicts that the meeting will be the largest and most important Irish gathering ever held in this country.

Gladstone Amazed.

LONDON, July 17.—Gladstone has written a letter to Rt. Hon. Edward Frederick Leveson Gower, the brother of Earl Granville, the Liberal Gladstonian candidate for the northwestern division of Staffordshire, recently defeated by Capt. Edward Heathcote (Conservative) for that place, in which he says: "I am amazed at the deadness of vulgar opinion to the blackguardism and baseness which befoul the history of the union. It is an open question in my mind whether if the folly lasts the thing may not contribute to the repeal of the union."

The Enquirer's War on Base Ball.

CINCINNATI, July 17.—An anonymous letter published in Friday's Enquirer, charges the Brooklyn base ball club with being an appendage to New York gambling houses, with the proprietor of which it is alleged that Tony Mullane made the bargain for selling out the game of June 4th, wherein the Brooklyns scored eight and four runs respectively in the eighth and ninth innings.

Officers Elected by the K. of P.

TORONTO, July 17.—The supreme lodge Knights of Pythias Friday elected officers as follows: Supreme chancellor, Howard Douglas, of Cincinnati; supreme vice chancellor, Gen. William Ward, New Jersey; supreme keeper of records and seals, R. E. Cowan, of St. Louis; supreme outer guard, John W. Thompson, of Washington City.

The Hop Crop a Failure.

TROY, N. Y., July 17.—Special reports to The Times from the hop-growing counties say that there will be from a third to half a crop. There is much excitement among farmers and dealers. Hops advanced from 10 cents July 1, to 30 cents July 12. Many farmers are plowing up their yards and sowing buckwheat.

Another Case of Kidnapping.

WABASH, Ind., July 17.—The little daughters of George A. Bennett, of St. Joseph, Mich., supposed to have been drowned, are now believed to have been kidnapped by an enemy of the family, living in or near this city. The affair is very sensational. Detectives are working it up.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

What Bradstreets' Have to Say About It—Improved Situation.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Bradstreet's special telegrams report a quite general hardening of domestic money markets and a widespread improvement in mercantile collections. At a few cities autumn buying has begun. The movement is not general as yet. The volume of merchandise distributed is about the same as a week ago. The bank clearings at twenty-nine cities for the week were $846,369,203, against $921,758,000 the same week last year. Earnings of thirty-two railroads were $3,130,458, against $2,903,194 in 1885.

Now that the domestic wool clip has been cleaned up, interest centers on the degree of shortage as compared with last year. Conservative authorities place it at 10 per cent, with the greater share of the decrease in Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Texas. London wool prices are no higher. Domestic quotations are unchanged and holders very firm. Stocks of cotton goods at the east are small and some brands are higher, checking sales by jobbers. The steel rail mills indicate their prosperity by increasing the total allotment for the year to 1,400,000 tons, 1,100,000 tons having been already contracted for.

The damage to spring wheat is currently estimated at from 10 to 20 per cent, earlier reports having been exaggerated. The result is to leave a strong undercurrent of feeling that a higher range of prices for wheat is likely to prevail during the coming crop year than has been quoted for two years. This is emphasized by unfavorable crop reports from the United Kingdom, Russia, India, Australia and elsewhere. The effects of the drought on general trade in some portions of the spring wheat country constitute the marked exception to the generally favorable trade reports mentioned above.

There were 189 failures in the United States, against 153 the week before. Total from January 1, 5,777; same time last year, 6,016.

A CANUCK JACK IN OFFICE.

He Refuses to Deliver American Fishermen Their Mail.

BOSTON, July 17.—The Globe's Port Mulgrave, N. S., special says: Capt. H. B. Joyce, who commands the fishing schooner Novelty, which is about to start for Boston with a full cargo of 600 barrels of mackerel, says that the Novelty has had many difficulties to contend with since reaching the Bay. He says that having applied at the postoffice for letters for himself and crew which had been sent to them through the United States mail to that address, the authorities refused to deliver them to him, saying that under the treaty he was denied the right of the international mail system. Much indignation is manifested by the fishermen over this new and uncalled for indignity. They denounce the Canadian government in the strongest terms.

A government official said here Friday that if a Canadian government official has in any way used his influence to prevent Capt. Joyce or his crew from legally taking their mail from the postoffice, he has greatly overstepped the bounds of law and justice and has brought the government into serious trouble if the United States authorities are inclined to push the matter. Under the present laws, American fishermen have the right to land and enjoy all the privileges that were formerly accorded to them except to stay in port over twenty-four hours or purchase supplies to be used for professional purposes.

THE CODE IN FRANCE.

A Duel Postponed to Please a Statesman—The Populace Enthused.

PARIS, July 17.—In deference to the earnest entreaty of the president of the senate the duel between Gen. Boulanger and Baron De Larionty, which was to have been fought Friday, has been deferred until Saturday. Larionty is the elder of the two by twenty-six years. The duel is the result of a debate in the chambers over the expulsion of Duc d'Aumale.

Gen. Boulanger presided over the ceremonies attending the opening of the new military club Friday evening, and was received with great enthusiasm. A large crowd assembled outside the building, cheering Boulanger and shouting "A bas Larionty." The duel will take place at Vincennes.

A Freight-Car Runs Into a House.

EAST CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 17.—At 1:15 o'clock Friday morning, a Boston & Lowell freight-car broke away from its train, and crashing through the side of a house near the track, brought up against the bed in which Jeremiah Callahan and his wife were sleeping. The man was painfully injured by falling timber, the chamber was laid open on two sides, while the south end wall was forced two feet out from the frame work. Mrs. Callahan and a number of children, sleeping in the upper story were uninjured.

From Post to Finish.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Friday's winners at Washington park races were: Hattie Carlisle 1 1-16 miles, Lisland ⅞ mile, John Sullivan 1¼ miles, Ponca 1⅛ miles, Rory O'More steeplechase, short course.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The following horses took the stakes at Brighton Beach Friday: Nat Goodwin ½ mile, Lancaster 1¼ miles, Hartford 1¼ miles, Chickahominy 1¼ miles, Lord Coleridge ¼ mile, Woodflower 1⅛ miles, Blue Day 1 mile.

A Big Mackerel Catch.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 17.—The schooner Mollie Adams arrived Saturday with 525 barrels of mackerel caught outside of the three-mile limit. This is the biggest catch of the season. Capt. Jacobs, her commander, arrived by rail Friday. He says he boarded the cruisers Lansdowne, Howlette and Critic, whose officers treated him well and said they should seize no vessel unless obliged to do so.

Massachusetts Republicans.

BOSTON, July 17.—The Republican state committee met Friday noon and selected Tremont temple as the place and Sept. 22 as the time for the state convention. Henry Cabot Lodge, by a vote of 16 against 12 for Senator Dawes, was chosen to preside at the convention. This is considered as the first brush in the coming senatorial contest and the opponents of Dawes seemed to have gained a lead.

Whipped and Tarred.

READING, Pa., July 17.—At Maxmi, this county, early Thursday morning, about 100 men, many of them masked, went to the house of Mrs. Michael Naynor, a married woman, and took out George McNery, a married man, and gave him twenty-five lashes and then covered his head and face and other portions of his body with a coat of tar. They then allowed him to depart.

Cholera Returns.

ROME, July 17.—The following are Thursday's cholera returns: Brindisi town, 12 new cases, 4 deaths; Brindisi province, 103 new cases, 46 deaths; Fontana, 83 new cases, 18 deaths; Latiano, 23 new cases, 8 deaths; Venice, 1 new case, 1 death; Codigoro, 3 new cases, 3 deaths.

CONGRESSIONAL CLARET

TAPPED BY THE GENTLEMAN FROM THE STATE OF NEBRASKA,

Cobb of Indiana Furnishing the Fluid—The Senate Passes a "Sealed" River and Harbor Bill—House Action on Pension Vetoes—Crookedness in Civil Service Examinations—Capital Gleanings.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—Quite a sensation was created in the house Friday afternoon by a personal encounter between Representatives Cobb of Indiana and Laird of Nebraska, growing out of the charges made by the former on the floor of the house, to the effect that the Nebraska member had been concerned in a land ring. Representative Payson of Illinois, a member of the public lands committee, was explaining to Representative Gillfillan the effect of certain senate amendments to a bill intended to protect the rights of homestead settlers, when Representative Laird leaned from his seat toward the party and asked, "Why do not you fellows (referring to the public lands committee) do something to break up the land rings in the south, instead of raiding upon the north?"

Payson replied that that was what the committee was endeavoring to do.

Cobb undertook to defend the committee, of which he is the chairman, and an angry passage occurred between him and Laird which ended by the latter gentleman calling the former a liar.

Witnesses say that Cobb declared that Laird did not dare to come outside and repeat his language.

Laird is said to have replied that the gentleman could not get out soon enough for him.

With this the pair started through the lobby into the basement. Some one called Payson's attention to their exit with the statement that they were going outside to fight it out. Thereupon Payson hurried through the doorway and, coming up with the would-be combatants on the stairway, caught Cobb by the collar and remonstrated with him for pursuing so brash and foolish a course. He succeeded in getting Cobb to retrace his steps as far as the west door of the lobby, Laird following, when the controversy broke out afresh. Referring to the charges Cobb made against him in a speech several weeks ago, Laird angrily declared that he (Cobb) was "a —— liar!"

Cobb rejoined that Laird was "a — — — perjurer!" but the words had hardly passed his lips before Laird struck him a heavy blow on the mouth and nose. A stream of blood trickled down Cobb's face and he was thrown backward against the doorway. A crowd which had collected interposed at this juncture, and the combatants separated, Laird taking his seat in the house and Cobb reclining in an easy chair in the lobby, where he was surrounded by his friends.

The bad feeling between the two members dates back some months, and it was apparent on the occasion when Cobb made his charges against Laird, some three weeks ago, that the last-named member with great difficulty restrained from emphasizing with his list the indignant denial and defiance he hurled at his antagonist. There was every reason to believe that if interference had not come in the shape of Payson, who sought to pour oil on the troubled waters, a sanguinary personal combat would have resulted. Both of the members concerned are of powerful physique and bear the reputation of men ready at all times to defend themselves in a fitting manner. Cobb stands six feet and over in his shoes, and is of proportionate breadth, but is somewhat at a disadvantage on the score of age, being 58 years old. Laird is but 37 years of age, with a girth of chest that would ornament an athlete, and a fiery, impetuous temper. On the other hand, he is also slightly lame, the result of a fracture of a leg a year or two ago. Neither of the members are willing to make a statement at this time, and the probable upshot of the encounter is a matter of speculation among their brother members.

The opinion is expressed in some quarters that the house of representatives has been outraged by the affray, and that it is a fitting subject for investigation by that body, but a majority of the members who are disposed to talk about the matter hold that as the encounter did not occur on the floor, the house is in no wise concerned in it.

THE HORIZONTAL IDEA

Applied to the River and Harbor Bill—One Veto Negatived in the House.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—The senate Friday resumed consideration of the amendment of the commerce committee to the river and harbor bill, by which each item is scaled 25 per cent. Every attempt to increase appropriations was defeated, including one to empower the president to withhold any amount appropriated if his judgment disapproved it. The vote was finally taken on the bill as amended, and it passed—yeas, 31; nays, 14. The negative votes were: Dawes, Edmunds, Frye, Hale, Harris, Hawley, Hearst, Platt, Riddleberger, Saulsbury, Teller, Voorhees, Whitthorne, Wilson of Iowa. The naval appropriation bill was then taken up, all the amendments agreed to, and the bill passed, after which the senate adjourned.

The house took up the president's pension vetoes and postponed the case of W. Tiller because the pension office was reconsidering it. The next case was that of Elizabeth Luce, which the pensions committee recommended to be passed over the veto. The bill failed, not the necessary two-thirds voting aye. The same fate met the bill of Catharine McCarthy. The next message voted on was that vetoing the pension to Joseph Romaiser. The report was unanimous for passage over the veto, and it was passed—ayes, 175; nays 88. The ney vote was: Bennett, Blanchard, Bland, Cabell, Candler, Clements, Crisp, Croxton, Culberson, Davidson of Alabama, Dowdney, Dunn, Forney, Harris, Henderson of North Carolina, Johnson of North Carolina, Jones of Texas, Lafloon, Lanham, Martin, McCreary, McMillan, McRae, Morgan Peele, Randall, Reagan, Reid of North Carolina, Richardson, Sadler, Sayres, Singleton, Stewart of Texas, St. Martin, Taylor J. M. of Tennessee, Turner, Wellborn and Wheeler. Recess was then taken, the night session to be for consideration of pension bills. At the night session one pension bill was passed and the house adjourned.

CIVIL SERVICE SKULLDUGGERY.

Three Treasury Officials Summarily Bounced for Engaging Therein.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—E. S. Peck, of New York, chief of the division of issue in the office of the comptroller of the currency, and J. Edward De Saulds and Charles B. Hinckley, of the district of Columbia, $1,400 clerks in the same office, have been dismissed for tampering with examination papers. The dismissals caused quite a sensation. It was stated Friday morning on official authority that the department has suspected for some time that crooked work was being done in examinations. A treasury official said to a representative of the United Press: "We were quietly waiting to catch somebody, being convinced that frauds were being perpetrated in that line. Why, right here in my desk now is an examination paper that was handed in, and in which the answers given to the questions are word for word the same as the answers furnished the examiners. There have been a number of such instances, and they opened our eyes to the fact that something was wrong. Yesterday, when this chief of division was charged with furnishing answers to his two favorites, he denied it up and down, but when he was confronted with a list of the answers in his own handwriting, he could say no more. Of course, after he had acted that way and then lied to us, summary dismissal was necessary. In order to prevent such frauds in the future, a committee, consisting of Messrs. Tronholm, Maynard and Tolmer, has been appointed to institute a safer method of examinations."

The New Ships for the Navy.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—The secretary of the navy has addressed a letter to Commodore Walker, president of the board on additional vessels, in which he says that he has obtained plans of the latest cruiser built by Sir William Armstrong & Co., the "Naniwa Kan," believing it to be a wise policy to avail himself of the experience of European shipbuilders in constructing the new vessels for our navy. The "Naniwa Kan" is a 4,000-ton cruiser, and duplicate plans have been prepared, modified in a few particulars to meet the requirements of the United States. These plans have been submitted to the principal shipbuilders in this country, all of whom have approved of them; and he transmitted to Commodore Walker the correspondence to assist the commodore in his work.

"Whew" Said the President.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—"Whew" ejaculated the president when he entered the East Room, Friday afternoon, and surveyed a couple of hundred people waiting to shake hands with him, and this was accompanied by a vigorous mop at his forehead with a clean handkerchief. The crowd pressed forward and the president was soon good naturedly engaged in the tri-weekly public reception. A little blonde-haired bud of promise, after taking the president's hand, seemed loath to leave, and it required the persuasive powers of a mother and father to induce the little one to fall out of line.

Wanted to Include St. Patrick.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—Thursday night, when the house had under consideration a joint resolution providing that per diem employes of the government shall be allowed pay for Decoration Day, Lawler said that St. Patrick's Day ought also to be included. Frank Gorman, of Chicago, a page, walked out in front of Mr. Lawler, with his hands under his coat-tail, and said: "Yes, that's right—that ought to be done." The house laughed and applauded Lawler's suggestion, but Bingham ridiculed it, and Breman defeated the proposition by an objection.

Not So "Pestiferous" as Edmunds.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—An amusing colloquy occurred in the senate Friday between Logan and Edmunds. Edmunds alluded to Logan as always having a "chip on each shoulder" and contrasted the social character of Chicago (with the Anarchist element of its population) with that of Burlington, Vt., and Logan, while admitting that there were some people in Chicago who were not very law abiding, denied that any of them were so "pestiferous" as the senator from Vermont was in the senate.

Report on the Naval Academy.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—The board of visitors to the naval academy at Annapolis, Md., have submitted their report to the secretary of the navy. They find the general condition of the academy to be good, the standard of scholarship high and sanitary arrangements excellent. They recommend the opening of other branches such as the revenue marine service, to cadets graduating each year.

Will Not Take His Wife Along.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—President Cleveland accompanied by Secretaries Bayard and Whitney will leave here, next Wednesday afternoon, for Albany, N. Y., to be present at the ceremonies attending the celebration of the bi-centennial of the incorporation of Albany as a city. Mrs. Cleveland will not accompany the president and party.

Heavy Treasury Disbursements.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 17.—The payments of the treasury department have been unusually heavy of late. Over $10,000,000 has been paid during the past week on account of pensions alone.

Killed by a Boiler Explosion.

DETROIT, July 17.—At 7 o'clock Friday morning one of the boilers in a manufacturing company's salt block at Fort Austin exploded with terrific force. The engine room was shattered to pieces. Dan Dygert, engineer, had an arm broken, was badly cut on the head and face, and severely scalded. The fireman, Andy McKay, was standing along side of the boiler that exploded, but escaped with but few bruises. Willie Jowell, 14 years old, was missing. The corpse was subsequently found under a pile of stone. His clothing was almost torn from his body, which was a shapeless mass. The affair has cast a gloom over the town.

Not a Candidate Against Powderly.

BOSTON, July 17.—A United Press reporter called upon George E. McNeill Friday in reference to the statements that have been published through the country coupling his name with the positions of general secretary treasurer and of general master workman of the Knights of Labor. Mr. McNeill said that he was not a candidate for any office in the order and that his name had been mentioned without his knowledge. He believed that the order was exceedingly fortunate in having Powderly at its head. He would never be a candidate against him.

Poorly Managed Rowing Races.

BALTIMORE, July 17.—Two three-miles single scull races were rowed at Lake Ogleton, five miles south of Annapolis, Friday. The management was very defective, the newspaper reporters having to act as judges, referees, etc. The first race was contested by Ross, Toomer and Lee, and was won by the former, Toomer being second. Time, 18:10. The second race was won by Ritz, leading Hamm a length. Time, 19:43.

Three Young Men Drowned.

MASSILLON, Ohio, July 17.—An excursion numbering more than 2,000 people went from Akron to Zoar, a resort fourteen miles south of here, Friday. While there three young men of the party went out on the dam in a row-boat, and while changing seats the boat upset. Two of the occupants, Benjamin Jussell and Martin Benkey, were drowned.

A Secret Mass-Meeting of Knights.

SALEM, Mass., July 17.—A secret mass-meeting of Knights of Labor was held here Thursday night with 3,000 present. No reporters were admitted. Several long speeches were made which are said to have greatly encouraged the striking tanners and stirred up their enthusiasm.

Had to Ask Somebody Else.

Professor George L. Vose, whose manual on railroad engineering is authority the world over, was one day puzzling over the time-card on the wall of the Boston & Maine station, without making out what he wanted to know, when the president of the road, Mr. Furber, came by and accosted him. "I am very glad to see you," the professor said. "I wish you would help me out with this time table. I can not make head or tail out of it." The president joined in the investigation, and for some moments the pair floundered among the a. m.'s and p. m.'s, with no satisfactory results whatever. "Oh, I never can make anything out of those things," President Furber exclaimed at length. "Let's ask somebody." And they went and asked a brakeman.—Boston Cor. Providence Journal.

The Physiology of the Liver.

The liver is the largest secreting organ in the human body, and the bile which it secretes is more liable to vitiation and misdirection from its proper channels than any other of the animal fluids. Luckily for the bilious, however, there is an unfailing source of relief from liver complaint, namely, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine which for over a quarter of a century has been achieving thorough cures of the above mentioned ailments, fever and ague, dyspepsia, bowel complaints, rheumatic and kidney affection, and disorders involving loss of nervous vigor. It is, moreover, a preventive of malarial disease, and affords protection to thousands of persons residing in districts of country where that dire scourge is prevalent. As a remedy adapted to the medicinal requirements of families, it is supremely desirable, and as a means of fortifying a debilitated system, it is thoroughly to be depended upon.

CIRCUS TRAIN WRECKED.

Two Men and Twenty-five Valuable Trick Horses Killed.

PORTLAND, Me., July 17.—Information has just been received here of a fatal accident to Forepaugh's circus train on the Maine Central railroad, some fifty miles north of here. The storm having interfered with the wires particulars are meagre. The train, consisting of some twenty cars, was en route for this city and was running at a lively rate of speed when the cars jumped the track, due to a defective rail, and plunged down the fifty-foot embankment toward the Kennebec river. Three of the cars contained animals and one was a passenger caboose, containing a number of employes. The cars rolled over and over several times and were smashed into splinters. Twenty-five valuable trick horses were killed outright and a number of others badly injured, several of which will have to be killed.

The caboose was occupied by ten men, the most of whom escaped by jumping when the car left the track, being saved from injury by the soft earth. The others were carried down the bank and were caught in the wreck. Their companions extricated several, badly if not fatally injured. Two men whose names are not given are buried beneath the wreck in the river and were doubtless killed instantly.

New Schedule of Freight Rates.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The railways interested in western and northwestern traffic and centering here, have agreed to rates on freight and passengers. The roads represented at the meeting were Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; St. Paul; Rock Island; Northwestern, and Minneapolis & St. Louis. Freight rates agreed upon are: First-class, 50 cents; second, 35 cents; third, 20 cents; fourth, 15 cents; fifth, 12½ cents; class A, 17½ cents; class B, 15 cents; class C, 12½ cents; class D, 10 cents. The eastern rates from St. Paul, Minneapolis and Minnesota transfer will be: First-class, 45 cents; second, 35 cents; third, 25 cents; fourth, 20 cents; fifth, 15 cents; class A, 20; B, 17½; C, 15; D, 12½. These rates take effect July 20.

The Dilke Scandal.

LONDON, July 16.—In the Dilke scandal case, which came up for trial Friday, Sir Charles Dilke declared that Mrs. Crawford's confession was the result of a deliberate conspiracy. He had advised Mrs. Crawford, through a friend, to abandon her intrigue with Capt. Foster. During an interview with Foster in 1885 the latter charged him with trying to blast his character, and challenged him to fight a duel. He declined to accept the challenge, and treated the whole affair as being utterly ridiculous. The evidence thus far suggests that Capt. Foster and Mrs. Crawford, finding that a discovery of their liaison was imminent, concocted the charges against Sir Charles Dilke which led up to the famous divorce suit.

Where Will Poison Appear Next?

MATTOON, Ills., July 17.—Thursday night at Charleston, in this county, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wiley gave a luncheon party to their friends. Nearly all of the guests partook of chicken salad at the refreshment table, and before the evening was over showed symptoms of poisoning. All the doctors in town were kept busy all night waiting on the sick, of whom there were twenty-five or thirty. The following are still in a serious condition: Mr. and Mrs. F. Crabs, Mr. S. M. Lynch, Miss Fannie Hutchinson, Mrs. E. M. Look and Mrs. J. M. Davis.

Thrown from a Freight Train.

WABASH, Ind., July 17.—Thursday evening a tramp, giving his name as William Bell, was thrown from a Wabash railroad freight train, four miles from here, by a brakeman, and run over. He was brought to this city and taken to the poor-house. His left leg was broken and left arm cut off at the shoulder. The doctors say he can not live. He claims that his father's name is George Lee, of Saginaw, Mich.

That Deadly Aqueduct.

NEW YORK, July 17.—While five men were descending shaft No. 26 of the new aqueduct Friday the gasoline lamp carried by them exploded setting them all on fire. They all jumped, the distance being about sixty feet. Three were badly injured and the other two only slightly hurt.

John Roach's Condition.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents per box by F. Sherer & Co.

A Little Sufferer.

CLEANSED, PURIFIED AND BEAUTIFIED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore, upon which other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand and as his blood became more and more impure, it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him. His mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and no sore was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged and continued the use of the remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared that he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

Catharral Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed, to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter exists to breathe and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sanford's Radical cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

BADEAU AT A BALL.

HIS OBSERVATIONS ON THE POLITENESS OF ENGLISH "SOCIETY."

The Great People Have Very Little Grace—A Typical Incident—An American Lady's Success—The Example Set by the Queen.

Mrs. Norton and Lord Houghton knew most of the guests, and pointed out the notables one, and nearly every one was notable. Yet there were crowds of people whom apparently neither host nor hostess knew by sight, and doubtless many whom they hated or despised. For certain people have a right to be invited, as they have a right to go to court. It is not society without them; and the greatest magnates, when they open their houses, want them filled with the "world." Perhaps that is why so little courtesy is shown the guests after they arrive.

The duchess, I learned, was in a rage that night, for her mother had recently died, and she had been unwilling to lay aside her mourning, but the duke had some business relations in Egypt with the Khedive—Ishmail Pasha, the wicked one—and it was important to his grace to be civil to the African potentate, so he forced the duchess to open her doors for the ball, and she could hardly be courteous to her principal guests, far less the inferior ones.

I found this out for myself, for later in the evening, when royalty had left, Mrs. Motley saw the duchess apparently disengaged, and took me up to her. After my name and position had been mentioned I made some little comparison of English balls with American, complimentary to my hostess, but although there was no one else claiming her attention she turned deliberately away from both Mrs. Motley and myself in the midst of my sentence and left us to ourselves. Then Mrs. Motley explained that the grief of her grace had been disturbed, and that we were the sufferers. I hold myself at liberty to relate this incident because it is typical.

The great people had very little grace. They saluted each other in the coldest and most indifferent way; offering a hand, it is true, but with no show of cordiality, and without a bow or the slightest inclination of the head, hardly a recognition in the glance. The most intimate friends said "How do do," and "How do do" back again, and passed on. The superior always makes the advance, for the inferior must not presume. There is no more equality in society than at court, and those who wish to make themselves acceptable must be careful to wait for their betters to notice them; otherwise the rebuff is certain.

We have no rank, and the English can not apply to us the rules which they enforce so vigorously among themselves. A disposition is also increasing to recognize the fact that distinctions may exist in other countries different from those so highly prized in England, and, above all, Americans have lately become the fashion. Still, I remember a countrywoman who had a great success. She stayed at scores of country houses and was as generally received as anybody in England. She told me it was all very well till it came to dinner, and then she always had to go in with the doctor.

I have seen the great English people snubbed very hard by those still higher than themselves in the social scale. The queen sets the example, and is disgracefully rude to any subject whom she wishes to punish for a fancied misdemeanor. She hardly recognized her former favorite, the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, when she came to court, because that lady married to please herself instead of her sovereign. In the same spirit stupid dukes look down on the greatest authors and soldiers and the most famous politicians as people whom their notice raises, and on whom their disfavor inflicts a positive harm. The curious part of it is that the other people concur in the opinion.—Adam Badeau's letter.

AN INFORMER IN COURT.

ONE OF THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS GIVES AWAY THE PLOT.

Testimony of a Man Who Was Behind the Scenes—Dacey the Chicago Murderer Pays His Debt to Society—Other Hangings, Including the Inevitable Lynching—A Girl of Grit.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The evidence in the case of the Anarchists was begun Friday. The first witness was Inspector Bonfield, who detailed the facts of the riot at the Haymarket as heretofore published, but positively swore that Fielden stood behind the speaking stand and fired at the police until he saw that he was deserted by his fellow conspirators. The announcement of the name of the next witness—Gottfried Waller—created consternation among the prisoners. This witness testified through an interpretor that he was a member until four months ago, of the "Lehrunt Wehr Verein," and had been drilled in the use of arms. While a member he attended a meeting, called by the secret sign in The Arbeiter Zeitung the night before the riot. Engle was there, with seventy or eighty others. Waller was selected as chairman. Engle made a speech in which he said: The "northwest group" would aid the "Verein," and that in case of an encounter between the strikers and the police, the Verein should help the strikers. When they saw the word "Ruhe" in The Zeitung they should meet armed. If a riot should occur, the police stations were to be stormed and the wires cut. Then every policeman that was to be killed, and the workingmen called upon to join the fight. The fight was to be prosecuted with dynamite bombs.

Each "group" had been detailed to make an attack at particular places, all the attacks to be made simultaneously. It was decided to meet at the Haymarket the next night and if the police attempted to disperse the meeting they were to be shot. The word "Ruhe" was only to appear in case of downright revolution and was to be the signal for the resort to arms.

Tuesday night—the night of the riot—Waller attended a meeting of the furniture workers and upon hearing of the explosion of the bomb went home, stopping to see Engle on route. Engle told him that Fischer had distributed a large number of dynamite bombs among the "northwest group." Witness himself had one. It was a piece of pipe six inches long. The members of the verein were designated by numbers. Witness' number was 19.

At this point court adjourned. The states attorney says Waller is carefully guarded to prevent his assassination.

DACEY PAYS THE PENALTY.

The Murderer of a Chicago Alderman Hanged at Woodstock, Ills.

WOODSTOCK, Ills., July 17.—James Dacey, the murderer of Alderman Michael Gaynor, of Chicago, was hanged here at 12:35 Friday. He made no speech and was moderately composed, though during the morning he screamed almost continuously, and had his limbs bound to prevent his making an assault on any of his attendants. The fatal drop occurred a few minutes after 12 o'clock, and Dacey died without a struggle.

For a few hours before his execution the victim was very contrite, and even called for his brother, with whom he has been at enmity, that he might make his peace with him. He repeated the prayers of the priests with them. The sacrament was not administered, as the spiritual advisors who knew his condition best thought him insane. Before the final hour came Dacey was so prostrated that he needed assistance to reach the gallows.

The yard before the jail was filled with a populace as if it were a gala day. No scene of the kind ever occurred in McHenry county before, and the country people filled the streets in wagon loads. The trains also brought crowds from neighboring towns.

Quite a delegation of Dacey's friends from Chicago arrived during the morning and were admitted to witness the execution.

Other Murderers Meet Their Fate.

VALDOSTA, Ga., July 17.—Dick Townsend, colored, was hanged here Friday for the murder of a companion named Lowry four years ago, another man named Cohen last November and another colored man named McCormick who intercepted him when he was escaping from the officers.

NEW ORLEANS, July 17.—Sampson Reiland and George Solomon, both colored, were hanged in Donaldsonville, in this state, Friday, for the murder respectively of Benjamin Gersdoff, white, and Henry Smith, colored in 1884.

NEW ORLEANS, July 17.—George Harrison was hanged at Shreveport at 2:25 Friday for the murder of George Allen. The drop was seven feet, and Harrison was pronounced dead in nine minutes. Harrison was extraordinarily cool throughout his imprisonment, and did not show the slightest weakness on the scaffold.

Wouldn't Be Complete Without This.

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 17.—Information was received here Friday that Jake Braswell, colored, was lynched at noon Thursday near Flat Ford, Bullock county. Braswell had ravished and horribly maltreated Colly Woods, a little 6-year-old girl, while on her way to school. She identified him after his capture, and he confessed, saying that he would have killed the child, but thought her dead when he left her. A crowd of 100 whites and blacks held a conference, and gave Braswell the choice of being burned or hanging himself. He chose hanging, climbed up a tree, fastened a rope around his own neck and a limb of a tree, but then refused to jump off. A negro climbed up, tied Braswell's hands, and the crowd pushed him off with a pole. His body was riddled with bullets. The child is not expected to live.

Outwitted the Lynchers.

TUSCOLA, Ills., July 17.—Henry Wildman, the wife-murderer and would-be suicide, had so far recovered that the citizens in his neighborhood concluded that they had better string him up before he was removed to jail for safe keeping, but the authorities of Platt county, hearing of the movement, quietly slipped him away to the county seat. The people of that section are determined that he shall never leave the county alive, and are much chagrined at being outwitted by the officers of the law. Wildman has never yet shown any repentance for his terrible deed.

A Girl with Beneficent Pluck.

OMAHA, Neb., July 17.—A special to The Bee from Norfolk says J. L. Armstrong, employed in the Depot hotel, quarreled Friday with Ella Manship, dining-room girl, and struck her with a knife, cutting a gash below her eye. She then threw a tumbler at him, and it was smashed against his head. While he was reeling from the effect of the blow she threw another tumbler with the same effect, knocking him to the floor, crushing his skull, and sending splintered glass into his brain. He will die. Sympathy is with the girl.

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes, that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all coughs and colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful discovery. Trial bottle free at F. Sherer & Co.'s drug store.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c.

THE GRAVE OF JEFFERSON.

A Trip to Monticello on a Mustang—The Lofty Granite Shaft.

It is about 100 miles from busy, booming Richmond to the very heart of old Virginia, where the author of the Declaration of Independence lies buried on the high, wooded hill near his lonely and nearly deserted residence, "Monticello."

Arriving at Charlottesville, I found everything full of snow and "slush." The mountain rivers were running red, for the soil of Virginia is strangely red—red as some Titan battle-field.

The dome of the university of Virginia fashioned after the Pantheon at Rome, rose on a lofty eminence before me. Beyond the Blue Ridge and the Alleghanies gleamed in the snow under the bluest of blue skies. It seemed as if the Sierras were here. "Monticello," which is only a residence, not a town, as one is apt to suppose, lies three miles back toward Richmond, and nearly half a mile—it would seem, if you climb to it through the snow, as I did—perpendicular.

"No, sah, you can't walk it; can't cross the rivah; and a keerage couldn't git thar in a coon's age; but if you could ride, sah, if you could ride a colt, sah?"

"Ride a colt! I could ride a cow, if necessary. Saddle up."

The "colt" proved to be a mustang. They have brought this lively and much-maligned little animal all the way from Texas in great numbers. The little mouse-colored animal with a mischievous eye had been shut up in the snow a good many days, I reckon, and so he was led out with a man on either side hanging on to the bits. A crowd gathered. "Stand 'im on his head in the snow, bet a nickel," said some one back in that black and ragged crowd of sovereigns. And then there was a grin and a chuckle all 'round.

I brushed off the two men who hung on to the bits, and talking a little old fashioned mustang talk, which he perhaps had not heard since he left Texas, I got a foot into the stirrup, and we both jumped at the same time. On into the river, red as blood, breast deep; over, on, up the hill, and in the drifted snow to his belly! Then I struck a bare and bleeding spot of red earth. But on and up plunged the "colt," the sacred soil of Virginia flashing and dashing and clinging to the tail of my English ulster at every jump!

In less than a mile, however, the gallant little mustang and myself were in love with each other. I got off often to help him wallow through the deepest places, and he not once tried to get away or betray my trust. Three miles of hard climbing, then turning to the left through an open gate I plunged into the thickest wood and—I jerked off my hat.

Was ever such absolute quiet outside of death or a desert? The world was far below. The Pantheon dome of the university which the great dead before me had founded and for fifty years well fostered was under my feet. It looked like one of the many great domes of Damascus. The rising summits of the mountains above and beyond looked down in kindly companionship.

The grave of the great Democrat is in perfect order. Indeed, it is almost painfully perfect. I know the world would find fault if this grave was neglected, but at the same time I may say it pained me to see the splendid iron fence, ten feet high if a foot, all tipped with gold, and a big forbidding lock on the prison-like gate. And then the great lofty granite shaft seemed so tall, and so heavy, and so cold, and eternal. But let us be content. The people, his people, would have it so. Heavy or light, tomb or no tomb, nothing can break his rest or mar his immortality now.

A dozen or more marble slabs of various sizes are dotted about the great shaft in the center of the square iron fence; trees lean and look over into the little opening; on all sides trees—oak and fir and pine and cedar. You can not see the resting place of Thomas Jefferson till you come immediately upon it on your way to the residence which he built on this mountain, "Monticello," half a mile further on. The snow was heaped in drifts about the inclosure. The snow lay in drifts up to my horse's belly as I sat on his back so as to see through the iron fence and read the inscription, familiar to all the world. The snow had not been broken this winter. So far as I could see no foot had passed this way for a long, long time.

No, bird, no squirrel, not even a little snow-mouse, had made sign or mark in the abundant snow. Nor was there any sound of bird or beast or man. The cars were coming in three miles away and a quarter of a mile below, clanging their bells as they trundled through the long, straggling town of Charlottesville. Far away to the north, against the Blue Ridge, streamed a white tower of smoke as the cars came in from the Pacific ocean. Away toward Richmond the cars came screaming with energy and excitement; for they were setting out on a mission of 3,000 miles. The snow of the Alleghanies, the dust of Arizona, the orange blossoms of Los Angeles—all these together lay immediately before me.—Joaquin Miller's Letter.

MISCELLANEOUS

Vis, Vita Propria. What is it? Scientists, Doctors, Lawyers and Ministers stand awe stricken and dumb-founded at the miraculous healing power possessed by Dr. Miner, whose portrait appears above.

was born in Allen, Allegany Co., N. Y., in 1832, of English and Scotch parentage. Longevity is marked on all his ancestry. With nerves as sensitive as the magnetic needle and muscles as strong as steel, with a well balanced frame to support them, it is apparent that he is a proper subject to possess this magnetic power in excess of other men. It is charged against us that we get this wonderful power from an electric battery worn upon our body and arms. This is false. We receive this power from our creator. You ask, what is it? We answer we don't know any more what it is than you do. We are daily healing the sick. All functional disturbances are controlled like magic by the laying on of hands, no medicines. The lame threw away their crutches and walk; life's current again courses through the palsied and withered limbs; the bloom of health flushes the pallid cheeks that death marked as its own, by the magical touch of a man's hand.

Since the Savior of man healed the multitudes, nothing has equaled the wonderful and miraculous healing of this phenomenal man. It does not require weeks or months to prove to the afflicted that they will be benefitted, results are manifested at once. We care nothing for the cause of your ailment. We treat conditions only and all functional abnormal conditions are controlled and permanently cured without medicines. Dr. Miner has leased Mrs. S. H. Shelton's residence for the summer where he can be consulted from 9 to 12 m, and 1 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m. Will make calls outside of office hours: jun30-1m —At a special election held at Green Bay, Wis., on the question of waterworks the vote stood 941 for and 42 against.

—Some of the coal for the use of the schools next year is already in the city, and it is expected that the entire amount contracted for will be delivered by the first of August.

—This morning Judge Bennett granted permission, in the case of Leavitt against the Chicago & Northwestern railway, for the filing of an amended answer upon the payment of costs.

—It is stated as a curious fact that the water in the artesian wells at the Oshkosh water works is affected by a tidal motion and rises and falls twice in twenty-four hours. The rise is several feet.

—The paymaster of the street car company was in the city to-day, paying off the laborers and tracklayers. The contractor is now waiting for iron rails to complete the road to the cemetery and the division to the fair grounds.

—When a man takes two cigars from his pocket, puts one in his mouth and offers you the other with the information that they are two for a quarter, you can generally make up your mind that he is going to smoke the 20-cent one.—New Haven News.

—Racine Journal:—The places of all the men who struck for higher wages have been filled by the Racine water company and the work is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. It is stated that dozens of men apply for work every hour, some offering to work for $1 a day.

—An Evansville editor claimes to have discovered gompohoyslites and diphiphylumesospetosum crouching in their zoanthuriarugosian and cystidean lairs And its a no-license town too. There is no use in arguing the question, it is very evident that prohibition does not prohibit.

—Rev. H. A. Miner, of Madison, Wis., will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church to-morrow morning. The church will unite with the Presbyterian and Baptist churches in a union service in the evening at the Presbyterian church, at which the Rev. Mr. Bill of Beloit, will preach.

—On Monday next several of our prominent families will go up Rock river in the neighborhood of Pope Spring, where they will camp out for a season. They have carefully surveyed the ground and claim they have found as comfortable places to pitch their tents as can be secured at Geneva, besides being nearer home.

—The very latest London craze in note paper is of a coarse brown quality, such as might be used for doing up heavy bundles. The edges are rough, while at the top of the first page is an illustration of an old shoe and surrounding it these words, "Hard times! Never desert an old friend!" while under the same motto on the envelope is a picture of an old battered hat. The thing just now is to assume poverty if you have it not.

—The remains of the late Henry K. Whiton arrived in this city at 1:30 this afternoon. On the train were the bereaved family and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Sleeper, of Chicago. The party was met at the train by many relatives and friends of the deceased, and after a short delay the procession moved toward the cemetery, where short services were held. The Rev. J. F. Conover, D.D., of Trinity church, officiated. The pall bearers were Judge J. R. Bennett, Hon. I. C. Sloan J. D. Rexford F. S. Lawrence, W. B. Payne and A. A. Jackson.

—On Monday morning a party composed of A. P. Bennett and wife, G. H. Davis and wife, O. C. Ford and family, and J. B. Miner and wife, will go into camp up the river. The spot selected is on the east shore, just below Pope Springs. Both there and at three or four other places on that shore and the other are grounds that possess every convenience for a modest summer resort, and Mr. Bennett said this morning that if everything was satisfactory, he intended to see what could be done toward developing Janesville watering places.

—About noon to-day a man came into the saloon of William Heise on the corn exchange square, and called for a glass of beer. He was accommodated but when asked to settle up promptly refused. He talked so freely that the saloon man finally ran him out of the door, but before he got back behind the bar again a large stone came crashing through the screen. Picking up a club the bar keeper then sallied out after war, and soon the unruly one was wiping away the blood from a cut on one side of his head. He was afterwards taken down to the jail by Marshal Hogan and can spend Sunday reflecting upon the wages of sin. He gave his name as James Smith.

—Yesterday afternoon a farmer residing near Afton called upon Postmaster Richardson, of this city, and informed him that he had found a United States mail bag on his farm, the bag being cut open and the letters and packages scattered over the ground. Postmaster Richardson went down to Afton with his informant and found the bag, as described. The bag contained the letter mail which had been picked up on the line from Chicago to Afton; and had been thrown off at the latter place to be carried back by the next mail train going south, and was taken by the mail robbers before the agent could secure it. It is not known how much "booty" the robbers secured. The matter has been placed in the hands of the superintendent of the U. S. mail service, and no doubt detectives will work up the case.

—Henry Jarvis, who was one of the converts baptized in the river a short time ago, got into trouble last night, on account of the deadly firewater. Marshal Hogan and Turnkey Acheson found him roaming around the streets soon after seven o'clock, altogether too drunk to be a good church member. He had been so steady since his conversion, however, that the officers decided to send him home and give him another chance. A little later in the evening they were sent for, and told that there was trouble in the fourth ward. Jarvis had gone home, found his family in bed, and had turned them all out of doors in their night clothes. They took refuge in a neighbor's house but he armed himself with a large knife and tried to drive them home again. He was taken off to the jail for a night's rest. This morning his wife refused to appear against him in the municipal court, and he was discharged.

Personal.

—Mr. W. H. McIntyre, of Omaha, Nebraska, is in the city.

—Miss Nannie Moore, of Minneapolis, Minn., is visiting Miss May Clark, of the second ward.

—Mr. Frank D. Jackson, assistant principal of the high school, is spending a portion of his vocation in Mexico.

—Miss Fannie Sheldon, of South Jackson street, is entertaining a few friends at a lawn tennis party this afternoon.

—Miss Nora Fuller, of Beloit, is spending a week in this city, the guest of Mrs. O. H. Brand, on Linn street, fourth ward.

—Prof. C. H. Keyes, superintendent of the city schools, returned home last evening from Topeka, Kansas, where he attended the national educational convention.

—Miss Anna LaGrange, daughter of Col. and Mrs. J. B. LaGrange, who has been visiting friends at Norfolk, Virginia, for the past year, returned home last evening.

—Mrs. Harry A. Barnard and little daughter, of Minneapolis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Dunn, Ruger avenue, is in the city, and will spend the summer with her parents.

—Messrs. William Ruger, J. J. R. Pease and L. B. Carle, who were in Chicago to interview the Chicago & Northwestern officials regarding the Evansville "cut off," have returned. They report that the company is anxious to have work commenced so that it can be finished this season; and will do so just as soon as the preliminaries are attended to.

—The many friends of Mr. Henry L. Pitcher will be interested to know that he has made arrangements to open and assume the management of one of Browning, King & Co's branch stores at Kansas City and will leave Chicago next Tuesday. This firm have long since established an enviable reputation under the title of the "Golden Eagle," and their business houses, wherever located, are a credit to the city, being clothing emporiums in every sense of the term. The Kansas City Store is now and elegantly furnished, having a frontage of 75 feet, with a depth of 130 feet. The store will be stocked with $150,000 worth of new and choice goods, and will take rank from the opening day with the very best business houses in the city. The successful management of such a business requires rare ability, and the selection of Mr. Pitcher to this responsible position, is a token of confidence which will be appreciated by a large circle of that gentleman's friends in Janesville. That the trust will be faithfully treated, is also assured from the same source. Mr. Pitcher possesses the qualifications, and the firm of Browning, King & Co. have made a wise choice.

Last Night's Fire Alarm.

At 9:19 o'clock last evening an alarm of fire was sounded on the west side fire bell, and was quickly joined by the clang of the east side bell. The fire department turned out in quick time, and in a moment all were on Milwaukee street bridge, the east side company taking it for granted that as the west side bell struck first, the fire must be on that side of the river, and made haste to "get there." The west side companies were told that the fire was somewhere on the east side—hence the meeting on the bridge. Here it was learned that the fire was at the Park hotel, and two lines of hose were hurriedly laid to that point, but not until the fire, which appeared to be in an ash house at the rear of the hotel, was extinguished. Just how the fire originated is a little mystery. The out buildings at this point are very numerous, and in close proximity to the barns of H. D. McKinney. The most of the fire appeared to be on the outside of the ash house, the fence, and the siding of an adjoining barn being scorched. The fire was discovered by a little son of Mr. Johnson' the proprietor of the hotel, and the timely arrival of the 'bus driver, Bart. Kehoe, with a pail of water, prevented what might have been a very serious fire. The damage was nominally nothing, notwithstanding the large congregation of people on the streets when it was stated that the fire was in the Park hotel.

Effects of the Drouth.

According to the Washington Critic the drouth in Arizona is so severe that the water in a mint julep rustles like a bush of dry leaves. Even that is not the worst, for it is so dry in Wheeler county, Texas, that the people have to sprinkle the water before it is wet enough to drink.

The drinking water in Philadelphia this summer is so thick that it is customary to slice it up with a knife and serve it with ice.

The ducks that frequent a watercourse in the drouth section of Mississippi have been laying hard boiled eggs for the last three weeks.

The intense dry weather in Sangamon county, Ill., has made it possible for the citizens to wipe their hands and faces on a sheet of water.

These items will serve to give an idea of how dry things really are through the country. Around here the condition of affairs is not so bad, but we understand that Beloit people are praying for rain to come and lay the dust in the bed of the river.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 60 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 74 degrees above zero. Clear, with north wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 61 and 72 degrees above zero.

Concordia Picnic.

The Concordia society will hold their annual picnic at Wheeler's grove on Wednesday, July 21st. The grounds will be nicely fitted up and everything done to make the day one of pleasure. The male chorus of eighteen voices will sing at the grounds in the afternoon. The day will close with a grand ball at Concordia hall in the evening. The Catholic Cornet band will play at the grounds in the afternoon.

OUR CITY SCHOOLS.

Next Year's Janitors—A Teacher's Salary Increased—Various Items.

At the adjourned meeting of the school board last evening President Miner was in the chair. All of the members answered to the roll call except Commissioner Valentine, who came in later, and Commissioner St. John

A number of bills were read, referred to the finance committee and afterwards reported back correct with the exception of that of Patrick Riley for work around the Fourth District building. This was thought to be too high and was held over for examination.

Applications for positions as teachers from Laura A. Clemmer, of Albany, and Mary A. Posey, of this city, were read and placed on file.

On motion of Commissioner Bowles the building committee was authorized to make all needed repairs in and around the school buildings.

The clerk was authorized to draw an order for one hundred dollars as advance payment for the concrete sidewalks that are being laid on the school premises by Lyon & Haskell. He was also authorized to draw an order for eight dollars in payment of the bills for music on commencement day, at any time when the proper bill was presented.

Commissioner Holloway stated that the coal for the use of the schools would probably be delivered before the next meeting, and the clerk was therefore authorized to draw an order for the amount required in payment, upon the presentation of the bill, certified to by the coal committee.

The building committee was authorized to have the school buildings, including the heating apparatus put in shape for the opening of the schools.

The janitors in the first, second, third, fourth and central districts—John Cummings, George Crouse, B. R. Hilt, Patrick Riley and S. H. Stone, were engaged for the ensuing year at the same salaries as last year. In the fifth district, Edward Courtney was put in, in place of Thomas Burns.

The clerk was instructed to have the rules relating to janitors printed on a number of cards. The cards are to be posted in conspicuous places in the buildings, and the requirements are to be strictly observed. One of the rules is that the janitor can not leave his building for more than fifteen minutes at a time, during school hours, without receiving permission from the principal; while another is intended to do away with the practice of sending in an extra bill for little jobs of work.

The matter of raising the salary of the third assistant in the high school was brought up for reconsideration. Commissioner Holloway moved that it be increased ten dollars a month, thus fixing it at fifty five dollars, but his motion was lost. On motion of Commissioner Bowles it was placed at fifty dollars. The board then adjourned.

THE ENGLISH SPARROWS.

A Plea for the Extermination of the Little Birds.

There has been much said concerning the little English sparrows, which now flock by the thousands in our streets. The tiny little creatures have their friends as well as their enemies; yet the latter frequently appear in the great majority, and cry for a "war of extermination." The sparrows, says the Madison Journal, are not wholly useless, as like most other birds, they kill insects to some extent; yet they befoul houses in a bad way, nest in eaves, above windows, and generally make themselves very much at home in places where they are not wanted at all. Besides this, they are gormands of the worst kind, eat at all times, and drive away desirable birds, which are left nothing to eat after a visit by the sparrows. They are very uncleanly in their habits, and devour the filthiest as well as the cleanest food. Their twitter is harsh and unmusical and is usually made too loudest in the early morning right under one's bedroom window at an hour when slumber is the most precious. Another complaint against them is that they multiply with alarming rapidity and in time become simply an intolerable nuisance in any community and one that it is next to impossible to abate. To advocate the remorseless slaughter of them may seem cruel to some and yet it is warranted by the circumstances and the sooner it is commenced the better it will be. The cities of the east regret that the sparrows there were not exterminated before their numbers had increased to myriads and we should take warning from their experience. Many cities have formally legislated against the feathered pests and others are contemplating such action.

A mayor of a prosperous Iowa city some years ago procured a pair of these sparrows in New York and took them home, thinking he was introducing a fine city pet. That pair of sparrows proceeded to make themselves at home and multiplied until to-day the town is overrun with them, and the former mayor who introduced the first pair would now give a good deal to have the nuisance abated. And he never hears the last of filling the town with sparrows.

John Burroughs, the distinguished naturalist, writes from West Park N. Y., as follows: "I find that people all over the country are waking up to the fact that the sparrows are a nuisance and must be put down. When they ask me what is to be done, I reply: "Kill 'em and make 'em into pot pies." Four and twenty sparrows baked in a pie make an excellent dish, for I have tried it. I kill all the sparrows I can—shoot them with fine shot—and they are becoming very shy about my premises. In the city I should advise you to forego the pot-pies and poison them; soak oatmeal or bread crumbs in a solution of arsenic or strychnine and sprinkle it in your yards, or on your housetops, or in the middle of the streets. This method would soon fix them. In sheer self-defense, the people of towns and cities will have to do something of the kind before long."

The sparrow is an alien at best and like the Chipamen, must go.

Giving the Time and Places Where Divine Services Will Be Held on Sunday.

How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord? forever; how long wilt thou hide thy face from me? How long shall I take counsel in my soul, having sorrow in my heart daily? How long shall mine enemy be exalted over me? Consider and hear me, O Lord my God; lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death. Lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him; and those that trouble me rejoice when I am moved. But I have trusted in thy mercy; my heart shall rejoice in thy salvation. I will sing unto the Lord because he hath dealt bountifully with me.

Against the Rules.

[From the Chicago Herald.]

"There's no use o' yer talking', gemmen," said the porter on a hotel car out in Iowa, "you can't git any drinks in this cah, not s'long as hit's in the state of Iowy. 'Gin the rules, gemmen, 'gin the rules. Sorry, 'cause we've got some of the best whisky ole Kentucky ever turned out right in the state room there, but it's 'gin the rules, gemmen, it's 'gin the rules."

"Oh, well," replied the trio of thirsty passengers, "we wanted a drink pretty bad, but I guess we will have to go without this time."

"Awful sorry, gemmen, but it's 'gin the rules, yo' know, in the state o' Iowy. Like to 'commodate yo' 'cause dat whisky'd make yo' sleep like lambs and dream 'o heaven an' de angels. Like to give yo' a taste of it, jus' to show you how good dat likker is, but it's 'gin de rules, gemmen—it's gin de rules."

"Well, let's go to bed, boys," said the spokesman of the three belated passengers 'gin the smoking salon, throwing away his cigar; "we can't get a drink, and we may as well go to sleep. We'll be in Illinois in the morning."

"Don't 'be in a 's hurry, gemmen," said the porter, "'tain't very late yet. As I said, it's 'gin de rules to sell whisky on dis cah in de state of Iowy. But I don't mind tellin' yo' dat dere's a piccaw o' de stillery where dat angel likker o' ours is made hangin' up in de state room. Dis is de key to de state-room, an' if you gemmen want ter go in ter inspeck dat work o' art I guess I ain't got no 'jections. Hit's worth jus' 50 cents apiece all 'roun to see dat wonderful work o' art. Thanks, sah—thanks—you'll find a decantah—thanks, sah—you'll find a decantah behind de piccaw, an' a bottle o' seltzer fo' de side down in co'nah o' de room. Right this way, gents—allus like to encourage folke what has a taste fo' art, but we can't sell no whisky—it's 'gin de rules, yo' know—'gin de rules."

Great Sale of Staple and Fancy Groceries at Cost.

Owing to the stringency of the money market and the low price of produce, I offer my entire stock of groceries at cost until after harvest. I have the finest new crop tea in Janesville, which I sell at 40 cents per pound. I guarantee it equal to any 60 or 75 cent tea. I sell all grades of tea from 20 cents up.

Grant's Application for a Professorship.

An incident in Gen. Grant's history which has never been made public was given to me by S. B. Elkins. It seems that some time in 1857, when the general was in hard lines in St. Louis and seeking for something to do to earn bread for his family, the University of Missouri, located at Columbia City, had a vacancy occur in the chair of mathematics. Gen. Grant, who had been disappointed in an application for the position of county surveyor at St. Louis, determined to apply for the vacant professorship. He wrote a modest letter to the board of trustees, in which he stated his qualifications and his needs. Another man got the place. A year or two before he died, in mentioning the act to Mr. Elkins, who is a graduate of the university, Gen. Grant, with his usual simplicity of manner, said: "I think I could have filled the place quite well. I was pretty well up in mathematics at West Point. But if I had got the place I presume I should not now be here.—New York Cor. Cincinnati Enquirer."

Visiting the Paris Fire Department.

After the well-served and well-cooked breakfast had been disposed of, the whole party were driven in carriages to the best engine house in Paris, and a minute inspection of everything was made by the foreign firemen. The Americans were particularly struck by the gymnastic training given the Paris firemen, who are taught to perform all the feats of the acrobat. Mr. Furroy, of the New York board, was much interested in an experiment to prove the efficiency of the electric light in penetrating smoke. A fire was started in one corner of a cellar filled with smoke. A man enveloped in a suit much like that worn by a diver was then sent down. The air that he breathed came from without, and after much looking he discovered by the aid of an electric light where the fire was and extinguished it. Mr. Furroy will probably introduce this feature into the New York fire department.—Theodore Stanton's Paris Letter.
